

Use Case Vue | Identifying & Engaging with Federal Contractors

With all the layoffs, firings, downsizing, agency office closures, funding freezes, and contract suspensions, EconoVue is seeing a surge in proactive outreach and engagement from forward-thinking local workforce boards to the Federal contractors in their regions. Anticipating and trying to get ahead of an uncertain future impact DOGE-related contract reviews or if contracts are suspended or cut, is critical, as there may be a ripple effect of contractor workers' layoffs in your community.

This month's featured use case showcases a statewide strategic program with local implementation. Read how workforce boards use EconoVue to quickly identify and engage the Federal contractors in their workforce regions.

Product Vue | Product Enhancement for Job Listings Search

EconoVue is pleased to announce enhanced functionality for Job Listings in ProspectVue. We've changed the search and output to improve your user experience and ensure you get a better "hit rate" when searching for company-specific job postings.

In ProspectVue, when Job Listings is selected, the search runs and delivers up to 10 links with information about Jobs Posting resources for that company (their home/careers page, LinkedIn page, Indeed.com, etc.). Workforce boards can now use those directed sites for more job opportunity research.

It is important to note that this job search change is only available in ProspectVue. Jobs Search in LocalVue and RegionVue still goes directly to the NLx jobs data for actual live position postings.

The screenshot shows the ProspectVue interface with a map of Michigan. A red circle highlights the 'Antolin Interiors Usa, Inc.' entry. A pop-up window displays job search resources for this company, including links to Indeed.com and the company's website.
